

Chapter 2 summary

It was not an early morning to odd for hearing the sound of clawing outside of his father's old hut. A bright orange fox was sitting in the cold snow. The fox ran away and odd was following the little fox. When odd was chasing the fox there was an eagle was flying in a circle. The fox had led odd to a bear trapped in a tree. He helped the bear get out of the tree. Odd rode on the bears back while traveling back to the hut. The eagle flew the way where odd was going. When odd and the animals were back, odd took them in the warm safe hut.
